UPDATE! UPDATE! UPDATE! Low Water Pressure (Canal and Bourbon Street)

Residents and businesses on several streets in the French Quarter will experience low water pressure tonight on Wednesday, June 24th, 2015 from 10 p.m. until 6 a.m. Thursday morning, June 25th, 2015. The second part of this work originally scheduled and previously announced for Thursday night, June 25th, 2015 has been rescheduled to Monday night, June 29th, 2015 from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. Tuesday morning, June 30th, 2015.

Boh Brothers Construction Company will be performing tie-ins on two water lines that serve the area.

The areas affected both tonight and Monday night are:

ON	From	TO
Canal Street	Bourbon Street	Dauphine Street
Bourbon Street	Canal Street	Conti Street

This work is part of the $188 million Sewerage & Water Board/FEMA Funded Waterline Replacement Program.
